

Artworks by Obata [clockwise]: Evening Glow at Yosemite Waterfall, 1930 (FAMSF); Untitled (Pier), 1940; Untitled (Ikebana in a glass vase), March 16, 1937; A Snow Storm Nearing Yosemite Park Government Center, February 1939.

Chiura Obata (1885-1975)

An American Modern

Free Public Lecture by UC Merced Professor ShiPu Wang
Merced County Library @ 2222 M Street
Wednesday, April 11, 2018 4:30-6:00pm

Join ShiPu Wang, curator of the internationally-traveling retrospective, Chiura Obata: An American Modern, for a revealing talk about the artist's life stories and love for California's "Great Nature," and Wang's 8-year effort in organizing this exhibition. The exhibition is on view at UC Santa Barbara's Art, Design & Architecture Museum through April 29, 2018. It travels to Utah, Okayama, Japan, and Sacramento, with a culminating stop at the Smithsonian American Art Museum in Washington, D.C. in November 2019.

UC Merced's Center for the Humanities is offering each of the first 20 registered attendees a free copy of the exhibition catalogue by the University of California Press, the first art book surveying Obata's 7-decade career by an academic publisher. To register, go to: <http://bit.ly/2nmAMhU>